THE DOORS ARE CLOSED: It may have been around only five years, but the Greenline had already become a landmark on Nassau Street — at least to lovers of natural food. Sold by owners Geoff and Harriet White, the restaurant will reopen in October with a new name, new owner, and new menu.

The Greenline Has Served Its Last Meal, New Look, New Cuisine Are on the Way

Good-bye vegetable nut burger. Hello pizzeta with grilled duck breast, three peppers and pesto.

The Greenline Diner is no more. After nearly six years of catering to the natural foods tastes of their patrons, owners Geoff and Harriet White of Park Place have sold the diner to Linden Lane resident Nicholas Azzolini.

The Greenline, housed in an authentic American diner that was brought to Nassau Street in the early fifties, had been a success, says Mr. White. But there was a price to pay: He worked 70 to 80 hours a week while his wife had to start her baking each day at 5 a.m. in order to have everything completed by the beginning of lunch.

The early years were rocky. According to Mr. White, 80 percent of people opening restaurants go out of business the first year. "We should have, but there were so many people who believed in us."

"But this year has been the best of any" he says. "We had the best crew working with us. It was the smoothest running and most profitable year. We're not selling because we're not making it."

He said that he and his wife realized this winter that they couldn't go on working 80 hours a week forever, but they thought it would take a few years to sell the Greenline. (It took a few months).

The buyer is Nicholas Azzolini, who has been maitre d' at The River Cafe in New York City for the past ten years. Before that, he worked with O'Neal's Organization, which operates six restaurants in the city.

He has hired a designer, Mico Sopic of New York City, who he hopes will bring the sense of being a diner into the square back room of the restaurant.

"We love the look," says Mr. Azzolini. "It's a good old classic American diner."

Geoff White couldn't agree more. "A diner is a wonderful mode," he says. "You can have someone come in dressed

Borough and Township Move Ahead With Their Affordable Housing Plans

$873,740 Grant Will Help Peterson Tract Construction

Township Mayor Gail Firestone announced that the Township was awarded an $873,740 grant from the New Jersey Housing and Mortgage Finance Agency. The funds will assist in the subsidy of the affordable housing project planned for construction on the 26.5 acre Peterson tract, located on Route 206 and Cherry Valley Road.

Princeton Community Housing is the designated developer of the 280 unit project, half of which will be subsidized for lower income housing and half of which will be sold at prevailing market rates.

Township Administrator James Pascale credited the award to the "novel and innovative" approach that the Township had taken to finance the affordable housing. Through the cooperation of the Township and PCH, 140 units will be sold at market

Charley Avoids Showdown With Coast of New Jersey

Hurricane Charley, obviously a shy kind of guy, never came close to living up to his advance billing Monday, and snuck out to sea. He had built a more macho reputation, based on reports of his activities in North Carolina and Virginia.

Predicting the path of hurricanes is never easy, but forecasters had expected the storm to take a course closer to the New Jersey coastline. While not in its direct path, the Princeton area was told to be ready for gusty winds and periodic heavy rain for most of Monday.

The day dawned with some ominous clouds overhead, and some rain, but patches of blue sky began to appear by mid-morning, and the sun was shining brightly by lunchtime.

72 Units Will Be Financed By $6 Million Bond Agreement

At a specially called meeting last Thursday at noon, Borough Council voted 5-0 to authorize a $6 million dollar bond agreement with the Mercer County Improvement Authority (MCIA) that will finance the Borough's affordable housing program.

This money will be used to construct 72 units of low, moderate and middle income housing at four sites: John and Clay Streets, Hamilton Avenue across from Westminster Choir College, the Maclean Street Parking lot, and Shirley Court (rehabilitation of existing 16 units).

Mayor Barbara Sigmund said that the Borough is looking for a site that could contain four housing units. She described it as private property adjoining the Hamilton Avenue location. An official announcement is expected within the week.

Construction is scheduled

A Bit of Greenline History

When you stop to think about it, a chromium-fronted diner in the heart of historic Nassau Street is a bit of an incongruous sight.

It seems that a number of other people thought that way in 1951, when Andrew A. Alvarez, a Nassau Street businessman, decided to open a diner at what is now 179 Nassau Street.

Leading the opposition was a volunteer group called Operation Nassau, which was dedicated to restoring the dignity of the street. Members of the group felt the new addition would not be in keeping with the traditional appearance of the Princeton business district.

However, there were no legal restrictions, and Mr. Alvarez prevailed. But the group enjoyed one victory: it persuaded him not to erect a neon sign with 24-inch flashing letters outside the establishment.

It is believed there had been some sort of restaurant at this location since the 1930's, going under such names as Colonial Restaurant and Colonial Grill. In 1938, its name was changed to the Princeton Diner. Princeton University, through a building swap with several attorneys who had bought the restaurant in 1951, became owner of the property in 1955.

The diner, then known as Pietrinferno's College Inn — and billed as offering the best hamburger in town — was bought from the Pietrinfernos by the Whites in 1980.

Princeton's newest restaurateur says he will use only fresh ingredients and there will be no heavy sauces. He describes the planned cuisine as "new American," and says it will reflect health consciousness.

The menu, which is still in its concept stage, is likely to include gourmet pizzetas, a variety of salads, grilled items on fruitwood, and pasta.

Interesting Possibilities.

Some possibilities include a pizzeta garnished with shitake mushrooms, fresh basil, and artichokes; a salad of chilled asparagus with citrus and olive oil dressing; salmon filet grilled with tomato; and linguini with mussels and pesto oil.

At this point, he foresees a $8-$9 average price per person for lunch, and an average dinner check of $15-16.

The restaurant will be open for lunch at 11:30, stay open for tea, and begin serving dinner at 6. Closing will be 11 during the week and midnight on weekends.

Mr. Azzolini says he wants his restaurant to have a certain panache. "It needs a sense of theatrics about it, which we can attain through the ambience of music, decor, and staff."

"Princeton is ready for something like this," he said.

He is hoping for an October 1 opening.

The Whites are not certain what they will do next. But with a daughter who will be in Princeton High School for two more years, they are not planning to leave the town. They do know, however, that their next career will not be in food service, but in something less demanding.

Looking back, Mr. White says that the Greenline was a struggle for four years, but that the last year was great.

"The fact that we served 400 people a day and that Brooke Shields came here a lot is not important. What is important is that 50 people worked here as a cohesive unit."

—Myrna K. Bearse

in a tuxedo and sit next to two college kids. A diner cuts across class and social lines. "I objected to sitting on the stools, but they would be surprised at the pretty well-known people who sat there."

Mr. Azzolini, who hasn't yet named his restaurant, has brought in River Cafe chef Charles Palmer as a consultant. (The cafe was recently awarded three stars by the New York Times.) The chef, he says, will be brought down from Boston.

MAKING ROOM FOR MEDICAL CENTER EXPANSION: Bulldozers chew away at the old Medical Arts Building on Witherspoon Street to provide room for a new driveway into the Princeton Medical Center. A new $3.1 million radiation cancer care suite will be erected adjacent to the hospital where the present drive is located. Entrance to the Medical Center off Witherspoon Street will be closed in a month or two during construction of the new cancer center, which is expected to be completed in a year and a half.

Sewer Repair May Cost $1-$1.5 Million Extra

Princeton's $12 million joint sewer repair project may cost an additional $1-1.5 million according to Sewer Operating Committee (SOC) Manager Martin Dorward.

The State Department of Environmental Protection (DEP) has suggested the use of larger pipes as a solution to the sewer design problems cited by the Federal Environmental Protection Agency (EPA). The DEP recommendation was made in a letter to the SOC last week, after the DEP had re-analyzed the plan that was rejected by the EPA.

The preliminary plan for the sewer rehabilitation was supported by the DEP, but two overflow by-passes were not approved by the EPA.

The design had allowed for run-off of raw sewage into streams during storms projected to occur at not greater than a five-year frequency. The overflow was to run into Stony Brook near Johnson Park School and into the Millstone River near the River Road collector station.

The DEP suggestions and alternative solutions are being evaluated by the SOC's engineering consultant, Clinton Bogert Associates.

The Township and Borough have already financed the project with a joint bond issue. The rehabilitation will include replacement of aging collector lines and two trunk lines, now with possibly larger and more expensive pipe.

More tests needed. A test of a monitoring well at the Princeton municipal landfill on River Road was retaken this week after a routine test indicated the possible presence of chlorinated hydrocarbons.

According to SOC Manager Dorward, the well may not have been tested properly and a second test is necessary before there is cause for alarm. He expects the results of the second test within the next two weeks.

If the pollutants exist, and can be linked to the landfill, Princeton will be required to seal the area with impermeable clay; a project that could cost $500,000.

Chlorinated hydrocarbons are usually linked to industrial waste. They were responsible for water pollution problems in Rocky Hill, where they have been traced to possible industrial sources on Route 206.

Nassau Savings Unhurt By Alleged Swindle

A former Cherry Hill businessman, Thomas A. Rodgers, will be arraigned September 4 in Camden County on charges that he fraudulently obtained $18 million in loans.

Rodgers, 39, is accused of defrauding 40 lending institutions, a property title insurance company, and property buyers in what might be the biggest scam in title insurance history.

Rodgers allegedly obtained $7 million in fraudulent loans from Nassau Savings & Loan in mid-1983. Later in the year, he allegedly borrowed another $1.9 million from Nassau Savings.

Rodgers was indicted by a state grand jury on 21 counts of theft by deception and one count of conspiracy after allegedly failing to disclose that there were already mortgages on at least 54 properties that he used as collateral for loans.

He is also charged with failing to tell lenders and buyers that he owned the company which ran title searches on the properties.

Both Rodgers and his title search company were agents of a large Los Angeles-based title insurance firm, Safeco Title Insurance Co.

Title insurance is issued after a search shows that title is clear. According to state Attorney General office spokesman, Thomas Cannon, the banks involved cannot be faulted for accepting the title insurance. "They have the right to rely on the trustworthiness of documents such as this."

Nassau Savings & Loan President Joseph Bandora confirmed that the bank had suffered no losses because Safeco had covered the money owed. However, he added that the bank would not now allow anybody who represents his own title company to close his own loan, even if he were a registered agent for another company.

"There is a lot of net worth backing Safeco and we felt we were dealing with them," he said. "Safeco came through without any problem when this was discovered."

Borough Cab Fare Hike Introduced by Council

Borough Council is expected to vote at its September 9 meeting on whether to raise the rates charged by taxis in the Borough.

The proposed new rate schedule would boost almost all rates by 50 cents. For example, day rates for one passenger to any place within the limits of the Borough would go from $2.50 to $3. The charge for each additional passenger would double, from 50 cents to $1. The cost for two or more passengers to separate destinations in the Borough would be $3 per passenger or would go up to $4.

Waiting time, which is now $3 per quarter hour, would go to $3.75 under the new schedule.

The only charge that would remain the same would be the 25-cent fee per grocery bag.

Make Mine Medieval

Princeton Battlefield State Park will be transformed on Saturday from 10 to 5 when members of Medieval Studies and Restorations, Inc., recreate the spirit and times of the High Middle Ages (1000-1500 A.D.)

Dressed in authentically reproduced clothing, including boiled leather and steel armour, the members will sing period madrigals and provide demonstrations of foot combat. They will also be available to talk on the clothing, foods, music, games, and crafts of the Middle Ages.

The event is presented by Friends of the Clarke House, who also invite visitors to stop in the Thomas Clarke House Museum, located at the park.

For further information, call 921-0074.

According to the new ordinance, the rate schedule would have to be permanently and prominently displayed in each taxicab at all times.

2 Bank Bags, $737 Stolen From Nassau Street Store

Two bank bags containing $737 in cash and checks were stolen during the weekend from a Nassau Street bookstore.

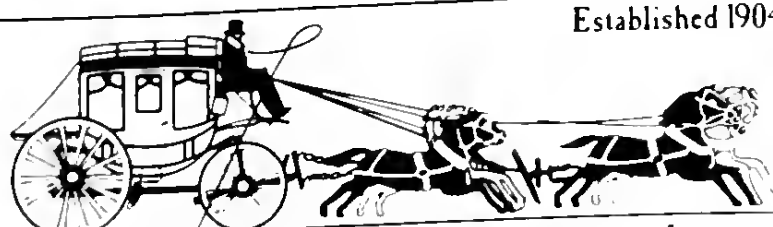

Police report the bags were removed from an unlocked filing cabinet in a rear office. There was no forced entry and the police investigation is continuing.

A Borough resident became a theft victim last week while visiting a Nassau Street office. Police report that, while the victim was out of the office between 11 a.m. and 1 Friday afternoon, someone stole her cloth purse valued at $25. Inside was a wallet containing $100. There was no forced entry into the office.

About 12:30 Monday afternoon, a Princeton woman was paying her bill in a Nassau Street restaurant when her attention was distracted. That was all the time a sneak thief needed.

When she turned her back she discovered that her $50 leather shoulder bag, containing her eyeglasses and keys, was missing. She was unable to provide any description because she told police that she never noticed anyone.

A Borough resident lost $165 when her wallet was stolen this month from her purse while she was taking a shower in the women's locker room at the Community Park Pool. Inside the wallet were $38 in cash, a $77 check and $50 in jewelry.

A $500 video cassette recorder has been stolen from a first-floor conference room located in Citicorp Home Owners, Inc. on Alexander Street. The room was not locked.

The victims also reported to police that juice and snack items, in an unknown amount, have been disappearing from a supply room.

A $200 portable radio and cassette player was stolen last week from a Leigh Avenue home while the owners were absent for only half an hour. Police were unable to determine the point of entry into the home.

Two rear tires and rims, valued at $281, were stolen from the 1981 VW of a Borough resident while it was parked during a two-week period in a private lot at the rear of 2-4 Nassau Street.

In a late report received Monday by Borough police, a Hopewell resident reported the theft of his pocket watch from a desk drawer in a Nassau Street office where he is employed. Police report the watch was the only item taken. There was no forced entry.

Red Light Gamble Loses; Two Cars Are Totalled

A driver tried to beat a red light last week at the intersection of Franklin Avenue and Harrison Street — and lost. The result: two demolished cars and injury to the driver who gambled.

According to the police investigation by Ptl. Ronald Wohlschlegel, Matthew C. Schenck, 19, 47 North Tulane Street, traveling on Harrison, was about 400 feet away when the traffic light at Franklin turned yellow a few minutes past midnight Monday morning.

As his 1976 VW approached the intersection the traffic signal turned red. When Brian C. Pearce, 21, 5 College Road, traveling west on Franklin, entered the intersection on green, his 1966 sedan was struck by the Schenck car. The impact spun his car around.

Mr. Schenck's car then veered off and jumped the northwest curb of the intersection and destroyed a bus stop bench owned by Princeton Township before coming to rest. Both cars were a total loss.

Mr. Schenck was taken by the Princeton First Aid Squad ambulance to nearby Princeton Medical Center where he received several sutures to close a laceration of his lip and was released. Issued a sum-Tobin D. Clark, 130 Mercer Street; David R. Sanders, 17 Alexander Street; John C. Russo, 59 Sayre Drive, and Alexander Meluskey, 719 The Great Road, were each fined $125 and an additional $30 for the Violent Crime Compensation Fund. The four were arrested in July in possession of a half-keg of beer in the parking lot of the Princeton Day School skating rink.

Jenny T. Mills of Susan Drive, Trenton, was fined $225 and $30 for the VCCB for passing a bad check at a Leigh Avenue convenience store.

Ms. Mills also made restitution to the victim for the $110 check.

A $2,000 gold necklace and a $100 bracelet are missing from a Poe Road home.

Police report the items were taken between June 19 and July 15 from a bedroom closet. They had been kept in a brown felt bag in the victim's sewing box. The theft was reported to police last Wednesday.

A microwave oven valued at $300 has been stolen from a faculty workroom in Stuart Country Day School on Stuart Road.

The oven was taken between August 8-11 from the room which police report was always left unlocked. School officials delayed in reporting the theft, police said, because they thought at first that someone had borrowed the oven.

Motorcyclist Charged With Three Violations

A Lawrenceville cyclist has been charged with three offenses, following an attempted police stop early Saturday morning.

Bradford A. Davis, 26, of West Church Road, has been charged with speeding, eluding a police officer and failure to yield to an emergency vehicle. He faces a September 3 hearing in Borough court.

Ptl. Anthony Federico and Ptl. Ronald Wohlschlegel, while on patrol on Nassau Street at 12:45, intended to stop Mr. Davis for speeding 45 miles an hour in a 30-mile zone. "There was no real pursuit," said Lt. Peter Hanley.

Instead, the cyclist pulled his 1984 Yamaha into a driveway of a private residence in the 200 block of Nassau Street, jumped over a rear fence and managed to flee the scene.

He was charged when he later turned himself in at police headquarters.

The Car Was Waxed As Patience Waned

A Township car owner's patience waned last week when a person who promised to wax her car failed to return it on time.

As related by Township police, 34-year-old Robert Teague of Trenton, knocking on doors in the neighborhood, had convinced a Prospect Avenue resident that her 1977 Volvo needed washing and waxing. She paid him $40 with the agreement that the car was to be returned in two hours. Two and a half hours later, Mr. Teague called to say he would return the car in an hour. When two hours had passed and still no car, the owner came to headquarters and signed a complaint, charging Mr. Teague with theft by deception.

Much later in the day, reported Capt. Jack Petrone, the $2,500 car was left in the driveway — washed and waxed. "He has done this to other Township residents," commented Capt. Petrone, who added that the incident might serve to make other residents more cautious before they turn their cars over to strangers.

Mr. Teague was later released in 10% cash of $500 bail set by Judge Sydney Souter. He is scheduled to appear in Township court on Tuesday.

"Even with glasses, everything looks cloudy."

If your vision becomes increasingly blurred, if you can't read fine print and colors are no longer vibrant and clear, chances are, you might have cataracts. You're not alone.

Cataracts are one of the leading causes of blindness in the world today. Two-thirds of senior adults in the United States experience measurable loss of vision due to cataracts. But there is a cure.

The Princeton Eye Institute uses sophisticated medical equipment for the surgical removal of cataracts. The procedure doesn't require a hospital stay, and is safe, painless, and effective. How long does it take? About forty-five minutes.

Knowing when to remove cataracts is important. The Princeton Eye Institute team of eye care specialists thoroughly evaluates your condition, studies your eye history, and conducts an in-depth eye exam. We will then select a cataract removal technique that is just right for you.

Call the Princeton Eye Institute for an appointment, today. We treat your eyes like no one else's.

pushed into its radiator while it was parked overnight last week in a lot near the home of its Tupelo Row owner. The cost to repair the vandalism has been estimated at $60.

Someone pushed a 1983 Pontiac down a graded driveway last week while it was parked overnight on Cherry Hill Road. Police report the owner had parked her car in her driveway and had left the keys on the front seat.

The car, when pushed, backed into a tree, damaging its tailgate, rear window and rear bumper. Police have received no estimate of the repair cost.

Borough police report that a 1983 Ford pickup was spray painted with blue paint while it was parked between 1 Sunday afternoon and 9 the next morning at the rear of a business located on Witherspoon Street near the Princeton Medical Center.

Police identified the owner as a Princeton resident.

Large Donation May Help To Purchase Open Space

Negotiations with a large donor may allow Friends of Princeton Open Space to help the Township purchase the Mountain Lakes tract for open space. The group hopes that a large donation will be added to funds already raised to meet the purchase price of the land.

The scenic 80-acre wooded valley forms a basin for three dammed ponds and several streams. Designated for future open space reservation in the 1980 Master Plan, the Township has also tried to raise funds with a Green Acres grant from the State. A decision on this $3 million grant is due within the next two weeks.

Since most of the grant is in the form of a low-interest loan, a large donation could eliminate or reduce the amount the Township would need to borrow.

The Master Plan designation allows the Township to raise funds to buy the land from The Hillier Group which owns and hopes to build 20 houses on the land. In an effort to keep some of the property, The Hillier Group has offered to donate 52 acres to the Township in exchange for permission to build 30 houses there.

Final word on the future of Mountain Lakes should come before the end of the summer.

Alcohol Council Launches S.O.B.E.R. Campaign

Driving while intoxicated is expensive in New Jersey.

It can cost as much as $3,500 for a first offense: a $400 fine, plus $25 per day at a detox center, plus a $100 surcharge for the Drunk Driving Enforcement Fund, plus an auto insurance surcharge of $1,000 a year for three years. An offender could lose his driver's license for as long as 12 months and wind up in jail.

"It's a very high price to pay for drinking and driving," says Kay McGrath, executive director of the Mercer Council on Alcoholism, "and the price gets even higher with each additional offense."

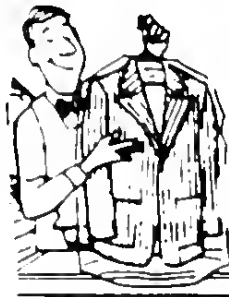

The Council is launching its fourth annual Labor Day Weekend Safe Driving Campaign by

Housing Grant

rates, offsetting the price of an equal number of affordable units.

"In most communities they will have 20 percent affordable housing and 80 percent to help subsidize this," said Mayor Firestone, describing the typical builder's solution to meet affordable housing requirements. "We were very concerned that 4 for 1 would use up a lot of our land and impact on traffic and sewers."

The $873,740 figure represents the difference between the total cost of the project less projected profits from the sale and rental of the completed units.

The grant was the largest of seven made by the State HMFA in the first round of awards. Other recipients were Princeton Borough ($104,788), Chatham, Bridgewater, Ramsey, Burlington City, and Mahwah.

"We were pretty confident we would be successful for one good reason," reflected Township Planner Duggao Kimball. "The purpose of the moneys was to initiate and encourage new ways of providing affordable housing. The Princeton approach is very innovative and has promise for communities across the country."

"In other communities the developer will develop the affordable housing units," said the Mayor. "Here it's under the auspices of the Township and those parties which it chooses to develop the site. We have more control on site plan and on continued maintenance after the project is completed."

The developer of the project, PCH, was responsible for the construction of Princeton Community Village and Elm Court. PCH is a not-for-profit corporation with a 23-member board composed of representatives of religious and educational institutions and of members at large, not representing any particular organization.

"PCH has a proven record in the field," commented the Mayor. "It is composed of many of Princeton's most prominent and good-hearted volunteers. They have worked so hard for so long to bring housing to our residents and the people who work here."

May '87 Occupancy. PCH is seeking construction funding from the State HMFA and local banks. The first phase of construction is scheduled to begin in November for May 1987 occupancy. A second phase will begin in September 1987 for March 1988 completion.

The 140 units will help to meet the 275 low and moderate income units designated as the Township's "fair share" under the Supreme Court's Mt. Laurel decision guidelines.

The project's townhouses and three-story apartment buildings have been reviewed by the planning board but have not yet been submitted for site plan approval.

Applications for the new housing are not yet being received. Some of the affordable units will be rented to qualified applicants.

Underlining the demand for affordable housing in the Township, Mr. Pascale jokingly projected that the lines for the new housing will be longer than those for Bruce Springsteen tickets.

With the state grant in place, the Mayor is optimistic about the project's progress. "We're moving ahead to bring everything together to get housing built."

FIRST SITES FOR AFFORDABLE HOUSING: The first phase of construction in the Borough's new affordable housing program is scheduled to begin at these two sites in the spring of 1987. Eight units of low-, moderate- and middle-income housing will be constructed on the John Street basketball court (above), while 16 units will be built on land adjoining the playground on Hamilton Avenue across from Westminster Choir College.

Borough Housing

to begin in the spring of 1987 at both John and Clay Streets and Hamilton Avenue. The one-to-three bedroom units are expected to sell between $24,000-$124,000.

At another special meeting held last Wednesday night, the MCIA voted to authorize an agreement for the sale of the bonds — at an interest rate of six percent — with five local banks that will act as a consortium. Princeton Bank, one of the five, will function as trustee and will invest the proceeds for at least a seven percent yield. This one percent profit — known as arbitrage — will be used to subsidize the housing program.

The other banks in the consortium are United Jersey Bank, the Trust Company of Princeton, National State Bank, and New Jersey National Bank.

Mayor Sigmund had been concerned that the U.S. Congress might shut off access to arbitrage by municipalities on Friday, August 15, instead of the anticipated September 1 cutoff. This caused Borough officials to accelerate the complex process that was required to float the bonds. However, the mayor was assured on August 13 by a staffer in the office of her mother, Rep. Lindy Boggs, D.-Louisiana, that the September 1 deadline would hold.

All the affordable housing sites — except for Shirley Court — are owned by the Borough. Shirley Court has been designated blighted by the Regional Planning Board, thus opening up the possibility that the Borough could acquire the property through condemnation.

According to the mayor, negotiations are still underway with Shirley Court owners Benjamin Kahn and Paul Harvey to purchase the 16-unit property located off Witherspoon Street.

Additional Subsidy. At the special Council meeting, the mayor also announced that the state Housing and Mortgage Finance Agency (HMFA) had granted the Borough a $104,788 subsidy for the affordable housing program and also agreed to set aside $1.5 million in mortgage funds for low and moderate income families.

Still pending is the Borough's request for a $200,000 state Department of Community Affairs Small Cities Community Revitalization grant to finance the acquisition of Shirley Court.

The next step in the affordable housing program, says the mayor, is to appoint a housing coordinator. Following this, criteria for the selection process will have to be developed by a committee consisting of government officials and groups representing potential purchasers of the housing. In addition to Borough residents, these would include municipal and school employees and volunteer firemen.

The mayor said the process will be set up in the fall and will be publicly announced at that time. No applications will be accepted until then.

Topics of the Town

reminding Mercer County residents to take heed of the now-familiar S.O.B.E.R. slogan — "Slow on the Bottle. Enjoy the Road." — and by citing some "sobering" statistics:
In Mercer County alone 50 percent of the highway deaths are alcohol-related. On an average weekend night, one out of every 10 drivers on the road is drunk. Each year in the United States 25,000 people are killed by drunk drivers. This means 492 each week, 70 each day and one every 20 minutes.

"We're hoping that, this Labor Day Weekend, those statistics will be reduced," said Mrs. McGrath. "One way to start is by not getting behind the wheel if you've been drinking. Another is by refusing to be a passenger when the driver has had too much to drink."
The S.O.B.E.R. campaign is a cooperative program between the Mercer Council on Alcoholism and the New Jersey Office of Highway Safety. It is an intensive effort to make people aware of the risks and responsibilities an individual assumes when he or she drinks and then drives.

The Mercer Council on Alcoholism is a non-profit organization whose mission is the prevention of alcohol/drug abuse and alcoholism through education, community services, advocacy and public information.
A wide variety of S.O.B.E.R. materials — key chains, wallet cards, bumper stickers, litter bags, bookmarks, etc. — are available free of charge at the Council's offices at 408 Bellevue Avenue, Trenton, N.J. 08618, (609) 396-5874.

League of Women Voters Reports Survey Results

In a recent survey in local newspapers done by the Princeton League of Women Voters, "preservation of open space" placed first among a list of qualities deemed desirable in the region.
A majority of respondents also checked "smooth flow of traffic." A few new suggestions were added by some respondents to the League's list of desirable qualities. These included quiet streets, bypass roads around town for through traffic, and roadside vegetable stands.
Most respondents also favored coordination of plans between municipalities, the county and the state, and the establishment of priorities for the region. But less than half answered the question, "what level of government should be responsible for regional planning?"

Historical Society Plans Statue of Liberty Gala

The Historical Society of Princeton plans a salute to the Statue of Liberty on Saturday evening, September 27, in celebration of her first 100 years. The gala evening will be held at Nassau Park on Route 1, which will be transformed that night into an elegant dining salon.
An open cocktail bar, dinner catered by Jimmy Duffy & Sons and dancing to the music of Lester Lanin have been planned by the committee, which is chaired by Mr. and Mrs. John B. Hughes. Committee members include: Mr. and Mrs. James B. Bell, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Breese, Dr. and Mrs. William H. Burchfield, Mr. and Mrs. G. Ernest Dale, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. John Gulick, Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Gunning, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice F. Healy, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Peter W. Hegener, Mrs. Robert Lee Hoke, Mr. and Mrs. Landon Peters, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Plohn, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. William H. Sword, Mr. and Mrs. David S. Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Clark G. Travers, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce J. Westcott, Mr. and Mrs. Donald M. Wilson, and Mr. and Mrs. Hugh de N. Wynne.

Proceeds from this benefit will support historical programs, events and exhibitions sponsored by the Historical Society. Founded in 1938, the Society collects, researches, exhibits and interprets materials relating to the history of the town and its environs. The Society's museum library and offices are located in historic Bainbridge House, one of Princeton's finest surviving Georgian buildings.
The event is being supported in part by Collins Development Corp.; Merrill Lynch & Co.; William H. Sword & Co.; Church & Dwight Co., Inc.; W.B. Howe, Inc.; Lovrek Associates, P.C.; Minute Press Inc.; Princeton Bank, The Pullman Company; Short and Ford, Architects; Sturhahn, Dickenson & Bernard Inc.; Tucker, Anthony & R.L. Day, Inc.; Toombs Development Company; and United Jersey Banks.
For further information, or to request an invitation, call the Society at 924-6748 between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m.

New Member Appointed To Canal Commission

John C. Bullit has been appointed to the Delaware & Raritan Canal Commission by Governor Thomas Keane.

The Commission administers the Delaware & Raritan Canal in conjunction with the New Jersey Water Supply Authority and is composed of two representatives of each of the counties through which the canal runs: Mercer, Hunterdon, Somerset, and Middlesex and representatives of the State Attorney General's Office and the Department of Environmental Protection.

Mr. Bullit is an attorney with Shearman & Sterling in New York City, and owns a home overlooking the canal in Griggstown.

He was recommended to the governor for appointment by the Delaware & Raritan Canal Coalition, of which he is a founding member.

Recording for the Blind Receives $1,000 Grant

Recording for the Blind (RFB), Princeton, has received a grant of $1,000 from Allied Signal, Inc., Morristown, to provide recorded educational books to blind and print-handicapped students and professionals.

Last year, 20,419 persons with visual, perceptual or physical handicaps borrowed 118,402 taped books from RFB. In New Jersey alone, 736 persons borrowed a total of 4,435 books.

A national, non-profit organization, Recording for the Blind has a network of more than 4,500 volunteers working in 29 recording studios throughout the country, including one in Princeton and one in New York City. Its 65,000-volume Master Tape Library is the largest resource of its kind in the world.

Y After School Program Accepting Applications

Applications are currently being accepted for the Princeton YWCA's After School Program for the 1986-87 school year. For the first time, the program will serve children in Kindergarten through eighth grade.

Held at the YWCA and Community Park School in Princeton and the Ben Franklin School in Lawrenceville, transportation to the program is provided at no additional cost.

Hours are week-days from 3:30 p.m. to 5:30 p.m., and 8 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. on most school holidays. On half days, the program will be in operation from school dismissal until 5:30 p.m.

The After School Program features a well-trained, qualified staff to offer academic enrichment, creative play periods, movies, multi-media arts and crafts, and field sports. Daily wholesome snacks are supervised by the Department of Education Child Care Food Program.

The Princeton locations will use the YWCA pool for a weekly swim program. In Lawrenceville, a regular program at the Lawrenceville Library and a co-operative inter-generational program with the Lawrenceville Nursing Home will be offered.

All programs will have opportunities for numerous field trips.

Part-time students will be accepted on a space available basis and a special Kindergarten service is also offered during the Kindergarten phase-in period.

There are a limited number of scholarships available for those who qualify. The cost per child is $155 monthly, $40 weekly, $10 daily for regular days. There is a non-refundable registration fee and sibling discounts are available.

For information call Lois Altschul, After School Program Director, 924-5571.

Winners Are Announced In Day Camp Olympics

Winners in the Camp Olympics held by the Princeton Recreation Department Day Camp have been announced.

In the fifth and sixth grade girls competition, Pia Lauysen took first place in the jump rope and hula hoop contests and placed second in the 100-meter dash. Nylia Sanders finished second in the jump rope and playground ball kick.

In the third and fourth grade girls division, Joan Saputo finished first in the playground ball kick and jump rope contests. In the first and second grade competition, Monique Madden came in first in the jump rope contest and hopping race.

In the third and fourth grade boys competition, Ben Solomon won the foul shooting contest, Marcel LeMar won the soccer ball kick, Richard Wright won the tennis ball throw, and Marshawn Ferguson came in first in the 50-yard dash.

In fifth and sixth grade competition, Eric McEwen, Jon Willard, Thomas Clerico and Shane Kinney all had first place finishes. Ahmad and Anwar Abdel-Aziz captured Olympic medals in the first and second grade contest.

Trenton State Enjoys Boost in Its Ratings

Trenton State College (TSC) is currently ranked in the top ten percent of the most selective colleges and universities nationwide, according to the most recent edition of Barron's Profiles of American Colleges.

In the 1986 edition, TSC will appear in the "very competitive" category, placing it among the top 250 colleges and universities for selectivity. Only 50 public institutions are included in this group.

The new rating is a move up from TSC's previous rating of "competitive plus," and a reflection of the college's steadily rising entrance requirements.

Interest in very competitive colleges is high and the acceptance rates are low. TSC received more than 5,100 applications for the 950 freshmen it enrolled this year, according to the Dean of Admissions and Records, Alfred Bridges. The college has an acceptance rate of 39 percent.

This year's freshmen have an average combined SAT score of 1,040 and an average rank in high school class at the 80th percentile. Students who qualified for entry into the college's School of Business, the most selective business program in the state, averaged another 30 points higher on their combined SATs.

Trenton State College is the most selective comprehensive four-year college in New Jersey. The college recently received national recognition in Money magazine as one of the ten American public colleges that combine high quality with reasonable cost.

Free Seminar Will Focus On Children with AIDS

The New Jersey Foster Parents Association is offering a free four-hour program designed to educate parents on caring for children who are afflicted with Acquired Immune Deficiency Syndrome (AIDS) or AIDS-related complex.

The event is open to the public and will be held Wednesday, August 27, from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. at 719 Alexander Road, in room 55 of the Division of Youth and Family Service's regional office.

For information on the seminar or the New Jersey Foster Parent Association, call 599-4772.

Fitness Walking Club At YWCA this Fall

A new activity this fall at the Princeton YWCA is a Fitness

Walking Club. Fitness walking complexity of applying for in- allows a person to achieve insurance benefits, Medicare, physical fitness without the risk and other resources.

Volunteers are trained to assist older adults in completing insurance forms and in linking them with resources. The Fitness Walking Club will meet Mondays through Fridays, starting September 15, from 8:30-9:30 a.m.

Call the YWCA at 924-5571 for details.

Library to Be Closed A Week for Automation

The Mary Jacobs Library in Rocky Hill will install an automated system, SCROL (Somerset County Resources on Line). Through this computerized library system, the library will use computer terminals to check out library materials and to assist in other library processes.

In order to prepare for automation, the library will be closed from Monday, August 25 through Monday, September 1. All programs originally scheduled for this week are cancelled. During this time, library members are encouraged to use the Hillsborough Library and the other branches of the Somerset County Library System.

Aid Needed for Seniors Filing Insurance Forms

The Princeton Area Council of Community Services needs volunteers for P.A.I.R.S., Program Assistance with Insurance and Resources for Seniors. The health care committee of the Council initiated the program last year in response to the rising cost of health care and the increasing

When training is completed, the volunteers will work with seniors on the second and fourth Friday mornings of the month at the Princeton Senior Resource Center or on the first and third Tuesday afternoons of the month at the West Windsor Senior Center.

Volunteers are each expected to provide 15 hours of assistance over a six-month time period. They will gain an in-depth understanding of the insurance system and other resources available to senior citizens.

To volunteer or obtain more information call Jacquie Stacey at 924-5865 or 799-6033.

BUSINESS

Three New Tenants At Carnegie Center

CPT Corporation, Chase Manhattan of New Jersey, and Source Finance have opened offices at 101 Carnegie Center. CPT Corporation, a worldwide manufacturer of office automation systems, headquartered in Minneapolis, relocated its New Jersey branch sales office to the Center to be closer to a growing base of commercial and State government accounts in the area.

Chase Manhattan of New Jersey has established a leading office which will specialize in offering consumers a variety of financing programs including home mortgages and improvement loans, automobile and marine financing and lines of credit. Source Finance, an accounting and financial recruiting firm and Source EDP, which offers recruiting services for computer personnel is expanding service to the New Jersey job market from new Carnegie Center offices.

Firm Is Commissioned To Do Renovation Work

Design Interface, construction management subsidiary of The Hillier Group, has been commissioned by Hoffman-LaRoche, Inc., for an executive presentation and conference room renovation in the company's U.S. headquarters. Architectural design is by The Hillier Group.

Headquartered in Nutley, the Swiss-owned Hoffman-LaRoche is one of the world's largest pharmaceutical companies. The Nutley facility includes administration and plant facilities in a corporate campus setting. Design Interface will handle all construction management to build the new, 1200-square-foot presentation room, which will feature state-of-the-art audio/visual presentation capabilities including rear-screen projection for overhead, slide, VCR and multi-image presentation for up to nine projectors.

The room is designed to seat 26 and is scheduled for completion in early 1987.

Personnel Notes

John T. Henderson Realtors has announced the appointment of Irene Georgiou as sales representative and John Cronin as sales associate in the Windsor's office.

Mrs. Georgiou is in the process of completing a Ph.D. in clinical psychology. Mr. Cronin, a long-time area resident, is working toward a B.A. degree in economics at Kean College.

Dr. Roland Greenberg, 67 Randall Road, has been promoted to scientific director of licensing for E.R. Squibb & Sons, Inc. He will provide scientific and medical input for the licensing and purchasing of new products.

Dr. Greenberg joined the Squibb Institute for Medical Research in 1977 as a senior research investigator and was most recently associate scientific director of licensing.

Ned M. Weiss, M.D., has joined David A. Willard, M.D., in his practice at 281 Witherspoon Street.

Dr. Weiss, who is from Philadelphia, graduated from the University of Rochester and Hahnemann Medical College. After training in internal medicine at Abington Hospital, he completed three years of training in endocrinology and diabetes at the University of Chicago Medical Center.

Linda S. Oertel has been appointed director of alumni programs and special events at Rider College. She has been director of communications for the Delaware Valley United Way for the past four years.

Architect Douglas P. Harvey has joined The Hillier Group and will work in the studio managed by Principal Joel Spaeth.

Mr. Harvey, who received a master's of architecture from Princeton University, was most recently designer and project

We Pioneered a Profession

AFTER

In 1967 we displayed photographs of our clientele to introduce Men's Hairstyling and, of course, were quickly discovered by women. A year later, by popular demand, we became the first Unisex Hairstyling Studio in New Jersey. Eventually, the State of New Jersey invited us to assist in formulating a new 'Hair' profession by homogenizing both state boards governing Barbers and Beauticians.

We've spawned over fifty Unisex Salons, successfully owned and operated by former Princetonian employees. We've won awards ... been called 'unique' by the Princeton Historical Fact Book and identified as "pioneers in the hair profession" by the New York Times.

We're professionally consistent ... not pretentious or expensive. Make an appointment and discover why we remain the most popular hairstyling studios in our communities.

OBITUARIES

W. Pepper Constable, 72, of 10 Orchard Circle, died while swimming at his Nantucket Island home. He had suffered from Alzheimer's disease for the last five years.

He had been reported missing by his wife on August 13 and was found three days later, 1.5 miles north of the harbor.

Dr. Constable, a Princeton internist, was former chief of medicine at the Medical Center at Princeton.

Born in Baltimore, he graduated Phi Beta Kappa from Princeton in 1936 and from Harvard Medical School. While a student, he was captain of the undefeated 1935 football team and he received the 1901 Class Prize and the Pyne Prize.

During World War II, he was a lieutenant commander in the Navy Medical Corps, serving in both the Pacific and European theatres.

He was in private practice in Princeton for 20 years. From 1972 until his retirement in 1980, he was director of health services at E.R. Squibb, in Lawrenceville.

Surviving are his wife, Elizabeth Howe; two sons, W. Pepper III of Majorca, Spain, and W. Howe of Nantucket; three daughters, Margaret of Evergreen, Colo., Katherine of New York City, Elizabeth of Port Townsend, Wash.; two brothers, George W. of Baltimore and J. Cheston of Essex, Conn.; a sister, Alice Wetherill of St. Davids, Pa.; and two grandsons.

A memorial service will be held on Saturday, August 23 at 4 p.m. at the Unitarian Church, Nantucket, and at a later date in Princeton.

In lieu of flowers, memorial contributions may be made to the Alzheimer's Disease and Related Disorders Association, 360 North Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Ill., 60601, or the Nantucket Conservation Association, 118 Cliff Road, Nantucket, Mass., 02554.

John Ireland, 77, died August 15 in Chandler Hall Nursing Home, Newtown, Pa.

Born in Lambertville, Col. Ireland was a lifelong area resident. A graduate of the Virginia Military Institute, with a degree in electrical engineering, he served on active duty in the U.S. Army from 1941 to 1946, and was a highly decorated officer.

From 1946, until retirement in 1969 with the rank of colonel, he was in the New Jersey National Guard. He was also Director of Classifications for New Jersey State Department of Civil Service.

He was a member of the 112th Field Artillery Association, the New Jersey National Guard Association, the Morrisville Presbyterian Church, and Amwell Lodge No. 12, F&AM.

Surviving are his wife, Mildred; two sons, Gary H. of Pennington, and James W. of Point Pleasant Beach; two daughters, Woody Godshall of Pennington and Virginia M. Ireland of Alexandria, Va.; a brother, Howard A. Ireland of Toms River; a sister, Jean Rossiter of Bedford, N.H.; and five grandchildren.

The service was held at the Wilson-Apple Funeral Home, Pennington, the Rev. Philip R. Zink officiating. Burial was in Holcombe-Riverview Cemetery in Lambertville.

Memorial contributions may be made to the Morrisville Presbyterian Church, Pennsylvania Avenue, Morrisville, Pa. or to the Pennington First Aid Squad, Broemmel Place, Pennington, N.J., 08534.

Sooja Samson, 55, died August 16 after a year-long struggle with cancer.

Born in Aurich, Germany, Dr. Samson was in a concentration camp with her parents during World War II. Orphaned at 11, she made her way into the French resistance, where she served while still a child.

She came to this country shortly after the end of the war at age 16, and earned her doctorate in psychology from the University of Chicago in 1969. She taught and practiced as a clinician in Chicago until 1978 when she moved to Princeton.

Specializing in forensic psychology, she worked at Trenton Psychiatric Hospital, and at the Adult Diagnostic and Treatment Center in Avenal.

Surviving is a daughter, Diane Saxonberg of Chicago.

The service was held at the Princeton Jewish Center, Cantor Robert Freedman officiating. Burial was in Floral Park Cemetery in Deans. Arrangements were under the direction of Kimble Funeral Home.

Memorial contributions may be made to the memorial to victims of the Holocaust, Yad Vashem, PO Box 3477, Jerusalem, Israel.

Margaretha B. Engels, 88, died August 14 in Cortland Gardens Nursing Home, Stamford, Conn.

Mrs. Engels was a longtime Princeton resident.

Surviving are a son, William of Princeton; and three grandchildren, Lynn, Leslie, and Peter Engels.

A memorial service was held at Our Lady of Victory Church, Centerville, Mass. Memorial contributions may be made to the American Heart Association.

Peter A. Lappan, 82, died August 10 in Florida.

A former Princeton resident, he was business manager for Princeton University Graduate College. He moved to Florida in 1970.

Surviving are his wife, Anna Mae; six sons, Peter A. of East Lansing, Mich., Richard A. of Yardley, Pa., Charles M. of Pasadena, Tex., Robert J. of Princeton, William J. of Ridgefield, Conn., and Gerald W. of Herndon, Va.; two stepsons, Thomas A. Cahill of Trenton, and Daniel R. Cahill of Neshanic Station; two stepdaughters, Ann Caton of Belle Mead and Maureen Stevens of Princeton; a sister, Phyllis Clancy of Canada; 14 grandchildren; and three great-grandchildren.

RELIGION

Bulletin Notes

Dutch Neck Presbyterian Church and Prince of Peace Lutheran Church have scheduled a cooperative Vacation Bible School for the week of August 25-29.

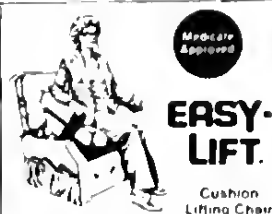

"Jesus Teaches Us" will be the theme, and classes will be offered for children from age 3 through 7th grade. A weekend camping experience will be included for junior high age youth, and extended day activities are planned for children of elementary school age. Classes will begin daily at 9 and conclude at 11:30 at Prince of Peace Lutheran Church on the Princeton-Hightstown Road in Princeton Junction.

For more information and registration of children, call Phyllis Darrah, 799-9182, Betty Berlenbach, 799-0712, or either church.

The Rev. Kenyon J. Wildrick, senior minister of the 1,800-member Community Congregational Church in Short Hills, will be guest preacher at the ten o'clock service on Sunday at the Princeton University Chapel.

Dr. Wildrick is a native of New Jersey, an alumnus of Trinity College, Hartford, and of Princeton Theological Seminary. He is a leader in his denomination, the United Church of Christ, a trustee of the Center of Theological Inquiry of Princeton, and has been minister in Short Hills since 1958.

PRETTY BROOK ROAD

And a pretty brook it is as it flows gently beside this picturesque road in western Princeton. A winding drive shaded by tall trees leads to this sparkling white colonial which is big and beautiful. A dramatic two story foyer opens to the gracious front to back living room with French doors to the garden, formal dining room, superb kitchen with charming family room, large panelled family/entertainment room with fireplace, opening to huge deck, den, laundry and lavatory on first floor. Two luxurious master bedrooms and baths, three other bedrooms and hall bath on second.

$745,000

NELSON RIDGE ROAD

In nearby Hopewell Township, with a Princeton address, this attractive house with its exterior of soft gray and white and professional landscaping makes a pretty picture against a background of natural woodland. On a beautiful acre and a half, it offers: inviting foyer, charming living room, spacious dining room, country kitchen, enclosed porch/office, delightful family room with fireplace, luxurious master bedroom and bath, three other spacious bedrooms and hall bath.

WEST SHORE DRIVE

Sweeping lawns and beautiful landscaping make a perfect setting for this very special house. Those who value excellence will appreciate its superior design, brick construction and charming decor. In nearby Elm Ridge Park, with the convenience of one floor living, it offers: gracious living areas including a family room with beamed ceiling and second fireplace, luxurious master suite, 3 bedrooms and hall bath.

$437,500

BRICKHOUSE FARM

Named for the classic red brick construction, this early 19th century residence in Hopewell Township is the ideal country estate or year-round gentleman's farm. The lovingly preserved 6 bedroom home has beautiful old staircases, intimate firesides and overlooks 100 acres of pasture, crops and mature woods, garden and a pond. Many outbuildings, including caretaker/guest cottage.

$2,950,000

HEMLOCK CIRCLE

One of Princeton's fine older houses, built around the turn of the century, is surprisingly found among the newer homes in Riverside! Once the master house of the Howe estate, majestic trees give seclusion to this unique house and help maintain its distinctive character. Mellowed by time, it has been lovingly preserved and improved through the years. Gracious living areas include a dramatic living room with vaulted ceiling and gallery. Five bedrooms, 3½ baths. Six working fireplaces.

$550,000

CHARLESTON DRIVE

Take an acre of rolling countryside just north of Princeton. Add a location on a cul-de-sac in a good school district, not far from shopping. Add a sparkling, white, new colonial with many special features -- and what do you have? A perfect home for a growing family in the family oriented neighborhood of Williamsburg Estates. Tiled foyer, front-to-back living room with fireplace, formal dining room, large kitchen with sunny dining area opening to deck, adjoining family room, laundry and lavatory on first floor. Four spacious bedrooms and two baths on second.

A House for Less Than $200,000? Not Often As Demand Pushes Prices Higher and Higher

When a split level house on Terhune Road listed for under $200,000, it created a flurry of activity that ended in sealed bids from four eager families. On Deer Path, a slab house with some improvements listed for $249,000 and then sold for even more. A $450,000 house in the western section sold all too quickly, leaving three families to regret their hesitation.

The hot Princeton real estate market seemed to burn out of control this spring with increased prices spreading to the Windsors, Hopewell, Pennington, Montgomery, Hamilton, and Ewing.

"There is a ripple effect," observed John Henderson of Henderson Realtors. "It's like dropping a rock in a pond and the water ripples out from the center. Princeton is in the center."

In Princeton, where million dollar homes often come to market, modestly priced houses start at around $230,000 and run up to $350,000, according to local realtors. Although called the moderate price range, it is also the lowest price range; there is no regular supply of houses under $200,000.

Low interest rates, a shortage of available housing, and a thriving local economy are credited for the inflation in the area housing market and in markets across the country. While sunbelt and rural areas, dependent on lagging energy and agriculture-based economies, are watching real estate prices flatten and fall; the two coasts and the preferred suburbs and neighborhoods of metropolitan areas throughout the country are seeing marked increases in housing prices.

Low interest rates have dropped monthly mortgage costs and brought new buyers into the housing markets, particularly in areas with strong economies. In Boston, with its booming high tech economy, realtors report that 10 to 25 percent of the houses listed are selling above asking price.

More Jobs, More People. In our area new businesses along Route One and around the region have brought both jobs and people. Although realtors have observed a slowdown in corporate transferees, this group placed a heavy demand on the market this spring.

In Princeton, upper level corporate executives, not merely company presidents, are buying houses for over $500,000. The bulk of the corporate transferees, however, are moving to new housing, particularly in West Windsor.

"Most of the people who are corporate transferees prefer West Windsor's new construction to Princeton's older housing stock," says Peggy Seibens of Schlott Realty. "They don't want the headaches of an older home."

Princeton has a large supply of split level homes built in the fifties and early sixties in a style that is now out of fashion, according to local realtors. Despite buyer preferences, modest split levels, particularly those with new kitchens and bathrooms, are commanding rapidly increasing prices from people who are willing to sacrifice style preference for location.

There are simply more people than houses. The economics of demand being greater than supply is particularly apparent in the high cost of land. As land costs rose the increase in new construction of houses over $600,000 followed. "When people pay $100,000 and $200,000 for a lot, they're not going to build a $75,000 house," noted Mr. Henderson.

In Princeton, land is in such short supply, that new construction will yield only a few, very expensive homes. Potential buyers have to wrangle over the limited existing housing stock and current residents are re-evaluating the appropriate use of the existing undeveloped acreage.

Land Use Questions. Traffic, sewerage, and the loss of open space are among the factors that have made new construction less appealing despite demand for more housing. Concern has led to the debate over the Mountain Lakes tract and triggered land use questions concerning public funds, private profits, and the effect of today's development on the quality of life.

Throughout the area, residents are watching the real estate boom change the face of their communities. Even young people reminisce about the way things used to be, remembering rural landmarks on a changing landscape.

Many homeowners feel a sense of frustration rather than delight at the increased value of their homes. "My house is worth a fortune but I can't sell it," complained one Princeton homeowner. "I couldn't afford to buy something else."

Mrs. Seibens comments that prices in Princeton have gotten so high that people don't feel they can move up to a better house. "You can get so much more if you move outside of Princeton but most people like to stay in town."

According to local realtors, the seasonal summer doldrums have slowed real estate activity, allowing an inventory of houses to build and prices to flatten or fall in some local communities. Princeton's short housing supply, however, never seems to meet demand.

As interest rates continue to fall allowing more people to enter the expensive local market, housing prices will continue to climb. Princeton's unpopularly styled split levels will continue to sell as soon as they come to market and its half million dollar homes will be bid above the asking price in a hot real estate market that shows no signs of cooling down.

News of The THEATRES

Fellini and Woody Allen Are Featured at Kresge

The directorial talents of Federico Fellini and Woody Allen will be teamed in a double feature, this week at Kresge Auditorium.

Fellini's Roma is the story of memory, reality, fantasy, and Fellini — the man and artist. These themes are woven around a description of his personal encounters in Rome, first as a boy for whom the city exists only in imagination; then as a young man first coming to the capital; and lastly, as an observer of the contemporary city.

Woody Allen's 1985 film The Purple Rose of Cairo, set in the Depression, is the second of his works in which he does not appear.

Cecelia (Mia Farrow) is a waitress whose only escape is at the local movie house. When the movie's handsome hero (Jeff Daniels) comes right off the screen to claim Cecelia for his own, the cast of the movie within-a-movie steps playing its film and begins quarreling among themselves and with the audience. The actor who plays the hero (Jeff Daniels, again) is sent in search of his alter-ego, and both fall in love with Cecelia in a dream come truer than true.

CHILDREN'S THEATRE: The Rainbow Company will perform a double feature show, "Goldilocks and the Three Bears" and "Little Red Riding Hood," in their final Bucks County Playhouse production for children. The performers are (top step) Joe Leahy, Kathleen Darcy, Jacki Goldhammer, Suzanne Wuscher, (middle step) Arthur Chandler, Kim Gagnon, (bottom step) Mollie Taylor Martin.

The Saturday to Sunday double feature at Kresge will open with Heat and Dust from the collaborating team of producer Ismail Merchant, director James Ivory, and screenwriter Ruth Praver Jhabvala, responsible for Room With A View.

In this 1983 tale of two English women's passage to India, the parallels and contrasts of their odysseys, set 60 years apart, are revealed. Anne (Julie Christie), an unmarried contemporary wanderer, retraces the footsteps of her great-aunt Olivia (Greta Scacchi) who went to India in the 1920's as the wife of a British civil servant, and shocked the colony by running off with a charming but shady Indian prince (Shashi Kapoor).

The companion picture will be the Princeton area premiere of one of last year's sleeper hits, Dreamchild. First-time director Gavin Millar and writer Dennis Potter set the film in 1932, the year of the Lewis Carroll Centenary. Eighty-year-old Alice Hargreaves (Coral Browne), who, as a ten year-old girl had inspired the Rev. Charles Dodgson to write the Alice adventures, arrives in New York to receive an honorary degree.

Beseiged by a charming hustler (Peter Gallagher) and bewildered by her celebrity status, Alice has the first frightening glimpses of her imminent mortality, relives memories of 1862, and in dream sequences, she enters the story world created for her.

NOW FAMILYBORN CAN SAY YES!!!

At Familyborn, we have always believed that everyone has the right to a family-centered birth in a homelike environment. That's why our birth center was created. However, state regulations for out-of-hospital births have required us to say no to women who are considered ineligible because of age, previous cesarean deliveries, toxemia or other medical complications.

Now, we can say YES!

Because of our outstanding safety record, our midwives have been asked to bring their love and expertise to St. Francis Medical Center. Now our well-known nurturing philosophy can be extended to everyone, either at our center or in a hospital.

Well Acted 'Night of the Iguana' Presented at Rider College

Because of its emotionally wrought dialogue, Tennessee Williams' The Night of the Iguana is an easy play to overact. Its central character, The Reverend T. Lawrence Shannon, a defrocked minister turned tour guide to the tropics for a busload of Texas Baptist college teachers — all female — enters in the midst of a nervous breakdown. Shannon expresses his experience of escalating disintegration with verbal pyrotechnics adapted from the pulpit.

It is the great virtue of Nick Procaccino's direction and Francis P. Bilancio's acting that they control and modulate their rendering of a character out of control. Consequently, the audience of this Stage One offering is drawn through the self-indulgent rhetoric to the visionary in Shannon and entranced as well as disturbed by some of Williams' most evocative poetry.

Opening last weekend at the Rider College Fine Arts Theater, Iguana runs through a 2 p.m. matinee on Sunday, August 31. All other performances, August 21 to 24 and 28 to 30, begin at 8 p.m.

Confined to a single day in 1940, the play's action takes place on the veranda of a seedy hotel, the Costa Verde, overlooking a rain forest on the west coast of Mexico. Gene Ericson and Bill Hoover's set and light design are superb. Against a turquoise sky that deepens with night, a burlap-roofed facade serves as a backdrop for the veranda, ranged round with tropical vegetation.

The proprietress of the hilltop hotel is the frankly sexual Maxine Falk (A'Leshia Brevard), who readily admits to more than night swimming with the two Mexican boys (Danny Rios and Len Mallozzi) who staff her establishment and who catch and tether the lizard that provides the play with its title and key image.

Shannon, on the tropical tour circuit since 1935, has collapsed on Maxine's veranda before, but this time he is received differently, for she wants him to replace her husband, Fred, two-weeks deceased.

Having pocketed the ignition key and left the bussed ladies below, Shannon soon begins to realize that he needs a new job when tour member Miss Fellows (played to prim perfection by Jane Hauber) chugs up the path, front stage, and demands a phone to call the father of the 16-year-old tour member who, Shannon says, has seduced him. Erika Hillman plays the compromised girl as such a mincing twit that Shannon loses little sympathy for his repudiation of her.

Maxine, with herself in mind, wants to know why Shannon can't conduct his relationships with an adult woman. And, indeed, much of the play is a probing exploration of that question. Why Shannon can't depends on the choice of women Williams has chosen to give him.

Appearing as Norman will be Richard Chibbaro, recently seen at the Off-Broadstreet Theatre as the barber in Man of la Mancha. Cindy Kazmarick, a newcomer to the Off-Broadstreet Theatre, will portray Annie. Kazmarick, formerly of Princeton, has been seen on many area theatre stages.

The action begins as Annie's henpecked brother Reg (Jack Friedel of Philadelphia) and his domineering wife Sarah (Rebecca Gleason of South River) come to watch the house during Annie's vacation and accidentally discover what Annie's plans entail.

Also joining the action are Annie's shy and admiring veterinarian friend Tom (Robert Bonotto of Princeton) who is actually more comfortable with animals than with people, and Norman's wife Ruth (Lenore Andriel), a career woman with a wonderful forgiving nature.

The show is directed by Steven Bacher of South Brunswick. A graduate of Wesleyan University, Bacher is currently pursuing a Master of Fine Arts degree in directing at the University of Texas at Austin.

Performances are Friday through Sunday, August 22 through September 20. On Friday and Saturday evenings dessert is at 7 p.m. with curtain at 8 p.m.

Sunday afternoon dessert is at 1:30 with curtain at 2:30. There is a senior citizen discount for those 65 and older on Sunday matinees.

For reservations contact the Off-Broadstreet Theatre box office at 5 South Greenwood Avenue, Hopewell, telephone 466-2766.

Final Children's Show In Off-Broadstreet Series

The Giving Tree, Shel Silverstein's popular story of a most generous tree, will be presented at the Off-Broadstreet Theatre in Hopewell, Thursday and Friday, August 28 and 29 at 10 a.m.

The show takes an all-encompassing look at relationships in general but in particular at a special friendship between a young boy and his companion — a tree.

The Children's Classic Series continues with their "hands on" approach for young children by presenting their shows in an improvisational fashion. Within a structured framework the children are allowed to respond to the action they see.

Performing as the main characters in The Giving Tree are Patricia Hibbert of Newtown, Pa., as the kind-hearted tree and Matthew Wright of Princeton, N.J., as the young boy.

The Giving Tree is the last production of the summer Children's Classic Series. Performances are at 10 a.m. Admission is $3.50 with group rates available. For reservations contact the Off-Broadstreet Theatre box office at 5 South Greenwood Avenue, Hopewell, N.J., telephone 466-2766.

Auditions to Be Held For Community Players

Auditions for Black Comedy and White Liars, the Princeton Community Players opening bill of the season, will be held on August 26 and 27, from 7 to 10 p.m., at the Triangle-Broadmead Theatre in Princeton.

The Peter Schaffer comedies require seven men and three women aged 20 to 50. Appointments for audition times may be made by calling the producer, Judy Parrish, at 695-7418.

'My One And Only' Opens

My One And Only will open at the Bucks County Playhouse in New Hope on Tuesday, August 26 for a 2-week run.

RAM III Ltd., owner and operator of the theatre, is the first production company, other than a national tour, to receive the rights to the hit musical.

Performances are Tuesday through Friday at 8:30 p.m., Saturday at 5 and 9 p.m., Sunday at 6 p.m., and Wednesday and Thursday matinees at 2 p.m. Group discounts are available. Reservations may be made by calling 215-862-2041.

The plays will be presented on September 26 and 27, October 3, 4, 10, and 11.

Final Children's Show At Bucks Co. Playhouse

The Rainbow Company of RAM III Ltd. will perform its final children's show of the season at Bucks County Playhouse in New Hope. The troupe will perform a double feature show of Goldilocks and The Three Bears and Little Red Riding Hood at 10 on Thursday morning.

Tickets are $3 for all ages. For reservations call the box office 215-862-2041.

MUSIC

Saxophone Jazz Group Will Perform in Park

The Saxophone Jazz Ensemble will present a free concert at 7 p.m. Saturday at Mercer County Park, West Windsor.

The performance, sponsored by National Waste Disposal, is part of the 1986 "Music in the Park" series, presented by the Mercer County Cultural and Heritage Commission during July and August.

The Saxophone Jazz Ensemble features Mike Plumeri (sax), Tony Anzivino and Sonny "T" Transetti (both tenor sax), Bill Maisto (baritone sax), Nick Poveromo (bass) and Lenny Pucciatti (drums).

All "Music in the Park" performances are held adjacent to the ice rink at Mercer County Park. There is no reserved seating. In the event of rain, performances will be held inside the rink.

Funding for this concert series is provided by the Mercer County Cultural and Heritage Commission in cooperation with Local 62 and the Music Performance Trust Fund. Additional major sponsorship has been provided by The Times, Sherwood Industries, National Waste Disposal, and New Jersey National Bank.

Auditions are Scheduled

Mostly a Cappella, a choral ensemble formed last fall, will hold auditions for new singers; basses and tenors are especially needed.

The group sings all kinds and styles of a cappella music: 16th to 20th century, classical to spiritual. The Christmas program will include carols and anthems by Kodaly, Praetorius, Pinkham, Poulenc, J.S. Bach, Palestrina, Vaughan Williams, Willcocks, and P.D.Q. Bach.

Weekly rehearsals are in Hopewell.

For more information and details about auditions, which will be held on Saturday, September 7 and Tuesday, September 9, call 737-9387 or 466-9465 (evenings only).

For further information and a complete schedule of upcoming concerts, contact the Cultural and Heritage Commission weekdays at 989-6701. On the day of the concert, call Mercer County Park at 586-8090.

Princeton Pro Musica Auditions Choral Singers

The Princeton Pro Musica will audition choral singers for its eighth season from August 25 to September 16, by appointment. The Pro Musica, a large chorus which performs major works of the classical choral literature with professional orchestra and soloists, will perform four concerts this year.

The subscription series will include the Verdi Requiem on November 2; the J.S. Bach Christmas Oratorio (Parts I, II and III) on December 19; and the Haydn Creation on May 31. On March 22, the Princeton Pro Musica will join the Greater Trenton Symphony Orchestra in a performance of the Poulenc Stabat Mater and the Mozart Coronation Mass.

The subscription series will be in Richardson Auditorium at Princeton University. The March concert will be at the War Memorial Auditorium in Trenton. The Pro Musica rehearses on Tuesday evenings at the First Reformed Church of Rocky Hill.

The Pro Musica is conducted by Frances F. Slade. Mrs. Slade studied conducting with Margaret Hillis, director of the Chicago Symphony Chorus, holds degrees from Wellesley College and Northwestern University, and has done additional study at Rutgers University and Westminster Choir College. She is also the director of two choral organizations at Rutgers.

Singers who wish to make an audition appointment should call Shari Speer at 683-5122.

Princeton Ballet Plans Classes for Next Season

The school of Princeton Ballet will begin its 33rd year of classes in ballet, creative movement, exercise, jazz and modern dance on Monday, September 8. Classes are held in the Cranbury, New Brunswick and Princeton studios.

Mary Pat Robertson, director of Teamwork Dance and a longtime faculty member at Princeton Ballet, has assumed the newly created position of school administrative director.

Registration is now open, and is continuous through the year for some classes. However, to ensure priority placement in classes that are limited in size, students are encouraged to sign up now. Registrations after the start of classes will only be accepted if classes are not full. To register, call (201) 249-1254 or 921-7758 for a free brochure.

The 1986-87 season includes classes for men, women and children at all levels, beginning through professional. Children who are four years old by September 8 or January 19 can take Creative Movement in two 10 week sessions beginning on those dates. Other beginning ballet students must be five years old at the start of their classes.

Daytime exercise classes, at the Princeton studio only, may be taken alone or as a companion class to Creative Movement. The Boys Ballet Class, taught by Artistic Director Dermot Burke, will again be offered Saturday mornings in Princeton.

Reduced rate dance cards that allow full-time college students to take 10 classes anytime during the season will be available. A similar corporate dance card may be purchased with a check from a business or corporation and allows the working dancer a choice of 10 dance classes. For more information call Maureen Kaplan, public relations director.

Tee Scatuorchio, a member of the faculty, will be Jazz Division Coordinator. He plans to offer a special Friday evening jazz class in Broadway repertoire. Karen Russo, former principal dancer with Princeton Ballet for seven years, will take on additional teaching duties as well as rehearsal assistance with Princeton Ballet II. Other faculty leaders are Christine Sarry, Diane Orio, Mr. Burke and Director Judith Leviton.

Open Houses, designed for new and old students to meet the faculty, tour the studios, see demonstrations of the school's training, and meet School Administrative Director Mary Pat Robertson, will be held at each of the three studios.

On Wednesday, September 3, the Cranbury studio in the Old School Building at 23A North Main Street, will be open from 4 to 6. The New Brunswick studio at 17 Livingston Avenue will be open Thursday, September 4, at the same time.

On Friday, September 5, Princeton residents may visit the studios at 262 Alexander Street, also from 4 to 6.

Chinese American Group Plans to Present Concert

The Central Jersey Chinese American Association will present a three-part concert featuring the association's Youth String Ensemble, its Junior Ensemble, and a piano soloist, on Sunday at 7 p.m. at the Trinity United Methodist Church. The church is located on Pennington Road, across from Trenton State College in Ewing.

The string ensemble, conducted by Henry Wang, will perform Telemann's Don Quixote Suite, Mozart's Overture to Bastein and Bostienne, Simple Symphony, by Britten, and St. Paul's Suite by Holst.

Soloist Mayine Yu will perform two Chopin works, Opus 25 No. 1 and Nocturne Opus 72 No. 2.

Under conductor Brady Lanier, the junior ensemble will play a composition by the conductor and Jazz Pizzicato by Leroy Anderson.

Admission is free.

Eye Screening Set

A free eye health screening will be held at the Medical Center at Princeton on Tuesday, September 23, from 5 to 8 p.m. Physician in charge will be Michael Weisberg, M.D.

The screening, sponsored by the Medical Society of New Jersey, is open to all persons over the age of 35 who are not already receiving ophthalmological care.

The purpose of the screening, which will be held during "Eye Health Week" in New Jersey, is to detect evidence of any eye disease, or any systemic disease reflected in the eyes, which should receive treatment or follow-up by a licensed physician.

FLORAL PAINTING by Margaret C. Orr is included in a show of the artist's work at The Present Day Club. The exhibit will continue through October.

ART

Art Association Sponsors
Three August Exhibits

Princeton Art Association is sponsoring three shows throughout the month of August.

Watercolors by Margaret Orr will be on display at the Center for Health Affairs, 760 Alexander Street.

At the First National Bank of Central Jersey on Route 518 in Rocky Hill, Victorian and unique homes are the subjects of paintings by Deborah Pizarick Paglione.

Oil paintings by Janet Purcell Piggott can be viewed at Tucker Anthony & R.L. Day located at 100 Nassau Street.

State Museum To Sponsor Fiber Workshop on Molas

Fiber artist Ann Harris will conduct a workshop entitled "Molas: A Contemporary Approach to Making Your Own" on Saturday, September 6, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the New Jersey State Museum, Trenton.

Participants will learn short-cut methods for creating applique and reverse applique work similar to that done by the Cuna women of Panama. They will have an opportunity to experiment with design and color and, if they wish, to plan their own wearable mola fashion.

The workshop will complement the museum's exhibition on molas, which will continue through October 5.

Ms. Harris wrote the text for the color and design classes for the Embroiderers' Guild of America, where she is on the teaching staff. She has conducted fiber design workshops in many centers in the east, including the Newark Museum and the Summit Art Center. Her work has been shown in New Jersey, New York, Palm Beach and Montreal.

Enrollment is limited; early registration is advised. Cost is $16 ($12 for members of the Friends).

For reservations and information on materials needed, call Fran Mollett, assistant curator of archaeology/ethnology, at 292-8594.

Exhibits

Watercolor paintings by Margaret C. Orr will be exhibited at The Present Day Club, 72 Stockton Street, from September 3 through October. The works will include florals and landscapes reflecting the artist's travels in Hawaii and Europe, as well as local scenes.

Ms. Orr has exhibited her paintings in solo Princeton Art Association-sponsored shows at Tucker Anthony/R.L. Day, the Center for Health Affairs, and the First National Bank of Central Jersey.

Monoprints by Janet Purcell Piggott will be on display in the Gallery of The Hopewell Frame Shop through September 20. Monoprints result from the blending of oil pigments and a thinning vehicle on the printing surface.

The gallery is located at the corner of Broad and Mercer Streets. For further information, call 466-0817.

National Register Status For Jugtown Supported

To the Editor of Town Topics:

I am pleased that the proposed Jugtown Historic District has reached the hearing stage. I am pleased to have underwritten the research and application costs involved in the application for National Register status for Jugtown.

Since I will be on vacation while the meeting in the Borough is conducted, I would like to offer my reasons for supporting inclusion on the National Register.

1. As a property owner in Jugtown (344 Nassau Street) I am concerned that Princeton's growth may lead to pressure to widen Harrison or Nassau Streets in Jugtown to accommodate increased vehicular traffic.

Inclusion on the National Register would be a significant impediment to such road widening which would inevitably sacrifice buildings which are of historic significance and a neighborhood character and ambiance which is a significant contributor to the overall quality of life in Princeton.

2. While my restoration and addition at 344 Nassau Street is complete and therefore would be ineligible for the special historic tax credit for which buildings are eligible in National Register areas, it is true that renovation in a proper fashion is normally more expensive than regular construction.

This important tax incentive would encourage preservation generally, and will, combined with Historic Review Committee process, help ensure that restoration is undertaken in an appropriate fashion.

McFarlane Appreciated By Black Community

To the Editor of Town Topics:

Many of us Blacks in Princeton — and, it is to be hoped, a fair number of others — are generally pleased by Barbara Johnson's article about Dr. Adrian McFarlane, a man whom all groups could be proud to claim. Thank you.

My household can speak of the compassionate friendship he extends to those who are not members of his congregation.

Clubs and Organizations

Recently elected to the board of directors of the American Red Cross, Princeton Area Chapter were Rev. Louise L. Kingston, Dr. Sidney J. Goldfarb and John Espenshade, all of Princeton.

A Vassar College and Princeton Theological Seminary graduate, Ms. Kingston was ordained as an Episcopal priest in 1978. She currently serves as chaplain and director of the Department of Religious Ministries at the Medical Center at Princeton. In addition, she is a part-time assistant minister at Trinity Episcopal Church.

Dr. Goldfarb attended medical school at Albert Einstein School of Medicine. He did his surgical residency at Mount Sinai Hospital and completed a residency in urology at Beth Israel Medical Center, both in New York.

Currently, Dr. Goldfarb serves on the Health Committee for the Council of Community Services, is a member of the American Fertility Society, and serves as a consultant to Planned Parenthood.

Mr. Espenshade graduated from Albright College, Reading, Pa., and received a master of public health degree from the University of Michigan. He has worked as European projects volunteer for the Brethren Service Commission in West Berlin. In this position, he was involved in the implementation of the Medicaid program.

He is currently administrator at the University of Medicine and Dentistry of New Jersey, where he directs neonatal and perinatal activities.

The Women's Division of the Princeton Jewish Center will hold its opening luncheon Monday, September 8, at 11:30 in the social hall of the Jewish Center.

Guest speaker will be Donna Glazer. There will also be a special exhibit of tallitot (prayer shawls) crafted by members.

For reservations or further information, call Fay Abelson at 921-6130.

The Central Jersey chapter of the International Association of Quality Circles will sponsor an Advanced Quality Circle Training course on October 6, 7 and 8 at the Henry Chauncey Conference Center, Rosedale Road.

This three-day program offers an intensive and applications-based training opportunity to those individuals currently involved in Quality Circle/employee involvement programs. The program will be presented by Harold Kay, a management consultant specializing in Quality Circle implementation training.

For further information, call Cindy Beishline at Mercer Medical Center, 394-4192, or Shirley Rembe at Educational Testing Services, 734-5914.

The Historical Society of West Windsor will meet September 8 at 7:30 p.m. in the Twin W Building on Everett Drive. Officer and trustee positions will be filled for next year.

Post 76 Finishes with Best Season Ever, 4th Place in State Tournament, and 29-9

THEY HAD A GREAT YEAR: Mike Kostue (left), athletic chairman of Princeton American Legion Post 76, was the front man for the financial and fan support of the Post 76 Legion baseball team and manager Larry Bender guided the team to its best record ever — a 29-9 effort that included a 5-2 mark in the American Legion state tournament. Post 76 finished fourth among the more than 200 Legion teams in the state. More on Bender and team this page.

Princeton Post 76's march toward a state American Legion title ended last week. Ended perhaps a few steps short of what manager Larry Bender and the team's followers had hoped for in their most optimistic dreams, but not before the team had fashioned the best season ever in its history.

Post 76 was two games away from a state title game and two outs away from avoiding elimination. It was that close.

"Unless you become national champions, you're ultimately going to end on a losing game," observed a philosophical Bender after it was all over. "You have to accept it."

"We finished 29-9. That's one helluva record. We never won that many games before. It's the best percentage since the team was founded 15 or 16 years ago."

After noting his team was 5-2 in the state tournament, Bender commented that in Post 76's only other state tournament appearance, five years ago, the team was eliminated in two games.

"We still believe we're the best team in the state," Bender continued. Post 76, he observed, played only one poor game in the tournament — an 8-5 loss to defending state champion Brooklawn which knocked the Princeton team into the losers' bracket.

As for the 6-5, 11-inning loss to Clifton two games later that eliminated Post 76 from the tournament, Bender commented, "We didn't lose a game; we got beat. We didn't give it away; they earned it. That's the good part."

"Years from now the players won't have to say, 'My, God! We threw the game away.' We didn't allow the other team to win because of errors. We won't have to wonder what might have been the rest of our lives. We can walk away with our heads held high. It was a great season for us. We had never been that far before."

Post 76 finished fourth among the more than 200 American Legion teams in the state.

"We Had Our Chances." In what was to be its final game against Clifton, a team Post 76 had crushed, 11-5, in the opening round of the state tournament, Post 76 scored a run in the eighth to break a 4-4 deadlock stretching back to the fifth inning. Mike Walker walked and was sacrificed to second by Scott Pierson. After Jay Jordan walked on four pitches, Chuck McCall dropped a bunt which stayed fair to load the bases.

Walker scored when Dave Arendas flied out to medium right field and he slid under the tag of catcher Rich BelBruno.

But one run was all Post 76 was to get in the inning. In all, Post 76 outhit Clifton, 14-12, and Did you know that a man named Tony Conigliaro might well have become the greatest home run hitter of all time — surpassing Hank Aaron and Babe Ruth ... It's a little-remembered fact that Conigliaro hit 104 homers in the majors by the time he was 22 years old, and by comparison, Aaron had hit only 66 homers by age 22 — and Ruth had hit only 9 ... But then on Aug. 19, 1967, at age 22, Conigliaro received an eye injury that curtailed his career ... Had Conigliaro not suffered that injury, he might have become the top home run hitter of them all, considering the start he had.

ONE STRIKE AND YOU ARE OUT. That's not a new baseball rule. That's the way disaster plays the game. Is your house, car, life and income insured for a disaster?

Here's a surprising fact ... Although the New York Yankees have had many great players over the years, only 2 Yankees in the last 40 years have ever led the league in batting at the end of a season ... The only 2 Yanks to win the batting title in the last 40 years were Mickey Mantle in 1956 and Don Mattingly in 1984.

3 FROM ANDY'S TAVERN ... 3 FROM HINKSON'S ... ALL FROM PHS: Six former Princeton High School baseball players are now playing against each other in the playoff for the championship of the Princeton Men's Slo-pitch Softball League. Playing for Andy's Tavern at left are shortstop Scott Porreca, left center Kevin Phox and catcher Anthony Cirullo. Porreca and Phox graduated from PHS in 1982, Cirullo in '76. Three members of Hinkson's, from left are third baseman Frank Whittaker, left fielder Dan Miller and shortstop Greg Hamer. Hamer and Miller are 1981 PHS classmates while Hamer is a member of the Class of '80. Hinkson's won the first two regular season meetings between the two teams, 5-3 and 7-5. Center Sports came back to take the next two by one-run margins of 16-15 and 3-2. Hinkson's won the first playoff game, 4-2, but Center Sports tied the series with a 8-6 victory Thursday at Community Park. The final game was scheduled to be played this week.

stole five bases without being caught. "When you get 14 hits you should score more runs. We had our chances," said Bender.

In the bottom of the ninth, Jordan, in relief of Jeff Robinson, walked the leadoff Clifton batter, Ed Klimek. Bender called on Mike Walker to take over on the mound. Walker, like all the other Post 76 hurlers, was bothered by arm trouble from overwork, as Post 76 was playing its fourth tournament game in four days.

Walker got the first batter he faced to pop to the mound. Two outs away. It was not to be. Klimek stole second on Walker's first pitch to BelBruno, who later singled to send the game into extra innings.

Post 76 had a great chance to break the tie in the tenth when McCall and Arendas led off with singles. After a fielder's choice and stolen base advanced them to second and third with one out, John Blankstein, pinch-hitting, flied out to right and McCall was thrown out at the plate on the return throw. In the eleventh, Villani led off with a single — his fourth hit of the game, but after Walker had bunted him to second, he died there.

Walker retired the first two batters he faced in the eleventh. The third, however, Elgar Feliciano, lined a shot down third that Villani managed to knock down but could not make a play off. Walker balked Feliciano to second and hit the next batter with a pitch. Clifton's John McClain then lined a single to score the winning run.

In addition to Villani's four hits, Danny Sexton had three and Arendas, McCall and Ender two each for Post 76. Walker was charged with the loss, while John Luciano (6-1) got the win.

Jeff Robinson, who started on the mound for Post 76 and went six innings, had pitched only 2½ innings in the regular season and two innings in the playoffs. "He pitched a helluva game," said Bender later.

Many Coming Back. A number of Post 76 players will be back next year, including three of four pitchers. They are Tim Rumer, named the league's Most Valuable Pitcher this season on the basis of a pair of no-hitters and an 8-2 record; Jay Jordan and Billy Byrne. Also returning is Robinson, who threw well in the state tournament.

Two veteran infielders return in third baseman Daren Villani and second baseman Danny Sexton. Byrne can also play short when not on the mound. Still others returning include outfielders John Mitchell and Andy Petrone, backup catcher Bob Blankstein, infielder Tim O'Connell and Greg Papciak.

"We've got a good number coming back," agreed Bender, "but we've really lost the heart of the team."

That heart beat loudest in

Dave Arendas, named the league's Most Valuable Player, Chuck McCall, Craig Ender, Mike Walker and Scott Pierson. The last missed most of the season when he dislocated his shoulder sliding into a base.

While Bender has played four 16-year-olds most of the season, he recalled that when Arendas, Ender, Villani and Walker were 16, "they didn't have the quality we have now. When they were 16, we won 11 games."

"They built the foundation. I hope we can continue the winning ways that they helped to establish."

Arendas and Villani are both headed for college careers at

North Carolina, Walker to Rider and Ender to the University of Maine — all on baseball scholarships.

McCall will enter the University of Pennsylvania and Pierson will enter Princeton University in the fall. John Blankstein is already attending Davidson and Dave Sisson, who played in the outfield for Post 76 and is a fine defensive player, is off to Wheaton in Illinois.

Bender a Maybe. One who may not return for his fifth season is Bender himself. When asked, Bender replied that he will make his decision in October.

"If I had to say today," added Bender, "I'd say no. I'm exhausted."

The crunch of playoff games followed without a break by the state tournament has taken its toll on the players — and Bender. Bender revealed that in pitching warmup prior to a playoff game with Hamilton, he was struck on the leg by a line drive off the bat of Ender. The impact caused Bender to fall and strike his head. Ever since the incident, he has been bothered by headaches, Bender reported.

In addition, Bender, who has four daughters, is active with two young soccer leagues in the fall in Hamilton Township. They start operation in September. In the spring, he was an assistant in Princeton High baseball coach Ed Beacham and as a consequence he has been going without let-up since March. "I need an extra three weeks vacation," he said this week, "before I think about anything."

Kudos for Kostue. Bender and his coach, Jon Luce, did not want to end the season without a salute to all those who supported the team financially and in any other way, particularly Post 76 Athletic Chairman Mike Kostue.

"He's put in a lot of time with this team," said Bender of Kostue. "He's at every game, he's our chief fund-raiser, water boy, supporter ... he deserves all the recognition he can get. We had our differences but he was 100 percent behind us all the time."

The cost of running, fielding and supporting a team like Post 76 costs some $4,000 to $5,000 every year, according to Bender. "It takes a lot of money."

To help raise it, the Post sponsors fund-raisers like cake sales and bus trips, and solicits ads for a team program booklet. Parents, friends and boosters also contribute to offset the cost for umpires, insurance, balls, bats, field rental. "It runs into thousands of dollars," repeated Bender.

To the regular season costs, add the extra expense this year of participating in the state tournament. For that, Bender gave a ballpark figure of "over a grand." The Mercer County American Legion organization, he noted, donates funds to help pay transportation to tournament sites to those teams which qualify for the state competition.

All the hard work from everyone paid off. In a pre-season newsletter, Mike had implored, "Let's all get behind the team and the Post and make this 'Our Year.'"

Fourth in the state ain't bad. And even Mike would agree that for Post 76, 1986 was indeed, "Our Year."

The Phenagons? Who? Find Out at the Pagoda

Who are the Phenagons? Started two years ago, the Phenagons are a 4.0 tennis team representing New Jersey at the district level in the amateur Volvo Tennis League.

After two unsuccessful seasons, the record of the 14-member women's team this year at the local and district levels has made them eligible to represent New Jersey in a tournament this month at the Princeton University Pagoda Courts. They will compete Friday at 10:30 and Saturday at 2. If they win, the Phenagons will advance to the finals on Sunday at 9 a.m.

A victory at Princeton will send them on to Seabrook, S.C. to compete in the nationals.

According to team captain Chy Ohi, the name Phenagons is a combination of "Phen" from Phoenix and "gons" from the word paragon. Legend has it that the Phoenix would be reborn from its ashes at death, and Ms. Ohi says this characterizes every Phenagon match: the players come back to win in spite of great odds against them.

Team members, hoping to

Fourth League Crown For Ficarro's Auto Body

The Steve Ficarro's Auto Body women's softball team ended its 27-game regular season last week with a 3-0 shutout of third-place Grove Plumbing. With the win, Ficarro's claimed its fourth Mercer County Women's A League championship in the past six years. The previous three titles came while the team played under the name Sweet Jersey Corn. In raising its final record to 23-4, Ficarro's reclaimed the league title it had lost by a game a year ago to Grove.

This season, after a 6-0 start, Ficarro's lost three of its next five outings to fall into third place. It then rebounded and won 15 of its last 16 games, the final 11 in a row. Earlier in the season, Ficarro's had captured its fourth consecutive United States Slo-pitch Softball Association New Jersey State Championship.

First-year manager Bob Smyth was understandably pleased with his team's performance. "The players worked well together, supported each other all the time and never gave up," he said.

"Whenever an important, clutch performance was called for, there was always someone stepping up to do the job. We had two goals this season: defend our USSA state title and regain the league championship — and we attained them both."

As for future goals, Smyth said that he hopes his team does well in the league playoffs, which are underway, and gives a good account of itself in the USSA Eastern Division World Tournament.

The latter will be held this year Labor Day weekend at Mercer County Park.

As the Mercer County A League champions, Ficarro's earned a bye in the first round of competition in the league playoffs. It was scheduled to meet the winner of the fourth-place Miller Beer vs. fifth-place Keystone Fabricating earlier this week.

The two finalists in the playoffs will meet in a best-of-three series, starting with a doubleheader Thursday at 6:30 at Mercer County Park. A third game, if necessary, will be played Tuesday.

Ficarro's final-season game over Grove Plumbing was highlighted by a series of sparkling

LET'S TALK ABOUT

CICADA KILLER WASPS

with Sam DeTuro

Woodwinds Associates

Landscape maintenance personnel, homeowners and golf course superintendents are having their problems with Cicada Killer Wasps. These large (up to 1.5 inches long) wasps appear during mid-summer and burrow into lawns, edges of sand traps, embankments as well as children's sand boxes. A mound of earth marks the entrance to the tunnel. Even though the female cicada killer possesses a formidable stinger, it seldom is used on human beings.

A burrow is constructed and the female wasp searches for a cicada. The initial "strike" usually knocks the cicada and cicada killer to the ground. The wasp then stings and paralyzes the cicada at the tunnel opening then goes into the tunnel, turns around and drags the cicada into a chamber and deposits an egg near the legs. The eggs hatch after two to three days and the wasp larva feeds on the cicada for about two months. After the feeding period is completed, the larva spins a cocoon and rests until next summer.

Attempts to control cicada killers by using insecticides are not very successful. Generally, liquid sprays do not penetrate through tunnels or into chambers. Dust formulations of insecticides are more successful. The dust must be forced through the tunnels and galleries not just dumped into holes. Dusters or hand-held bulb dusters work quite well. Insecticides that are suitable include Baygon, Dursban, Diazinon and Sevin.

Late evening is the best time to control cicada killers when there is just enough natural light to see. Be sure to apply to all nest openings.

After applying insecticides the nest openings should be covered with a flat board, slate or similar material rather than soil. Cicada can usually dig through soil.

defensive plays by the champions.

After nailing a runner out at the plate in the third inning, Ficarro's scored all its runs in the bottom of the same inning. Co-captain Debbie Smyth tripped over the leftfielder's head and came home on a double by Janet Swick.

After Grace Durland singled, and Clare Baxter had walked, Donna Nicholson (2-for-2) drove in Swick and Durland with the second and third runs. Ficarro's loaded the bases again in the fourth inning but failed to score.

The three runs were all the victors were to need this game, however, as Ficarro's continued its fine defensive play in the final three innings.

Baxter allowed only four hits in picking up the win.

saves and White nine in the second half.

Bernice Chen, Audrey Chen, Libby Blount and Denise Marianni scored to account for Yellow-Green's four first-half goals. Blount and Kathy Shillaber added second-half goals.

Beth Schmidt had two saves in goal for the losers in the first half and then turned the goal tending over to Clarice Chen in the second half. Chen stopped six shots.

YMCA Adds 2 Leagues In Football, Racquetball

The Princeton YMCA will start its fall youth athletic leagues with two new sports.

In addition to soccer, the YMCA is adding football and racquetball leagues. All YMCA leagues include both instruction and games and allow for maximum participation.

The soccer league has two divisions. The junior division (ages 5-7) plays at 5:15 on Mondays at the YMCA; the senior division (8-11) plays at 5:15 on Wednesdays at Johnson Park School, Rosedale Road.

The flag football league, for 7-10 year olds, will play on Thursdays at 5:15 p.m. at the YMCA, and the Racquetball league (8-12) on Tuesdays and/or Thursdays from 3:40 to 4:20, also at the YMCA.

Registration for the leagues, as well as all YMCA fall programs, can be made September 2-7 at the YMCA. Leagues begin the week of September 8. For more information, call the YMCA at 924-4497.

Playoffs Are Completed In Girls Lacrosse Loop

The Princeton girls summer lacrosse league finished its season last week with two playoff games between combined teams.

Because vacations had made it impossible to field full teams, Blue, the league's top team, was combined with winless Red, and Yellow combined with Green for the playoffs.

On Thursday at Valley Road Field, Blue-Red defeated Yellow-Green, 11-9. Susan Jones and Cassie Vogt, with three goals each, paced the victors, while Deborah Cenedo and Alison King contributed two scores apiece. Cindy Stovall added a single goal.

For the losers, Audrey Chen was high scorer with three goals, followed by Bernice Chen and Shirley Santiago who each scored twice. Amy Causling and Anne Hicks also scored. Yellow-Green goalie Clarice Chen had 17 saves.

In the first game, two days earlier, Blue-Red used a balanced attack (seven goals the first half, six the second) to defeat Yellow-Green, 13-6.

Barbara Van Horn (four goals), Cenedo (three) and Amy Kershaw (two) led the victors with King, Vogt, Jones and Amy Causling adding single goals. Jones and Carol White shared the goaltending, with Jones recording five first-half
